

SOME ILLINOIS CONGRESSMEN ARE ALWAYS IN SEATS

FRED BRITTEN SELDOM AWAY FROM FLOOR

Rainey Always Present If Party Battle Is Going On

By Gerald Miller
Associated Press Staff Writer.
Washington, Dec. 10.—(AP)—There are moments when Illinois and the 47 other states have similar representation on the floor of the house of representatives. These come when some member arises to make a long winded oration. Then the hundreds of other upholders of the constitution are called upon to attend to their correspondence, or to lounge about the halls. They know that whenever an important occasion arises a bell will summon them back to their seats.

But, even on such occasions there remain on the floor the old faithfuls—few though they may be.

Among them will generally be found the short, red-faced, Fred A. Britten, Republican of Chicago. He sits, all attention, his elbows on the arms of the comfortable chair, his hands folded in front of his chest, his eyes following the gestures of the speaker. He generally occupies a front seat, and appears more eagerly attentive than anyone else.

Another of the faithful is Harry A. Beam, Democrat of Chicago. But he sits well back, his legs comfortably crossed, his hands hanging off the chair arms.

The third is B. M. Chipfield, Republican of Canton. He rarely ever sits still. Tall, well built, and wearing a black double-breasted suit with the tiniest pin-stripe, he wanders back and forth among clusters of other "old faithfuls" shaking hands, bending over to whisper.

As for Henry T. Rainey, Carrollton, majority floor leader, he rarely leaves the floor unless there is an important party battle going on. But when Rainey does come onto the floor he brings with him unquestioned authority. Occupying his seat, he looks at the speaker, his eyes behind a long pale red table, the veteran Illinois politician who may be considered the next congress moves smoothly about the work of directing his party's interests. Generally standing, his white bushy hair forming something of a thick "mohawk" over his head, he looks like a ribbon-bow tie setting off his muscular jaw, his left hand at ease across his waist and his right hand resting on the table before him. Rainey allots time to his colleagues and moves to talk his opponents. There are no smiles on his face, even when others joke. It is all serious business with him.

Mr. Rainey moves about the halls of the capitol in the same fashion. When he is stopped by a friend, he shakes hands, smiles faintly, utters a few words, and moves on. No lounging about for him.

PLAN CARD PARTY
Franklin, Dec. 10.—The Ladies' Aid of the Sacred Heart church will hold a card party on Monday night at the Sacred Heart church. Euchre and bridge will be played during the evening. It was previously announced by mistake that the party would be held Sunday night.

GROCERIES ARE STOLEN
A sack of flour and a basket of groceries were stolen from an automobile owned by Charles Morrow, while the machine was parked on East Street near the Auto Inn.

WEATHER

"Danger" Ahead, W. C. T. U. After Forgotten Woman

Evanson, Dec. 10.—(AP)—The W. C. T. U. is after the "forgotten woman." In a memo from national headquarters today the organization said it was at work "to arouse the 'forgotten woman' to an appreciation of the danger in the present plans to restore beer without the slightest protection against the saloon."

The organization has distributed 5,000,000 anti-beer pamphlets and has heard from nearly 10,000 anti-beer meetings sponsored by its members, the memorandum said.

Mrs. Ella Boole, national president, said that beer was doomed to defeat when the "women make themselves felt politically."

ZERO WEATHER PREVAILS IN MANY STATES

Precipitations Most Widespread In Years

By the Associated Press.

The nation's weather map was almost entirely shaded yesterday by vertical lines, reporting what federal observers termed "one of the most widespread precipitations in years."

To all except residents of the Oregon country and the southeastern coastal plain it meant a fall of snow, varying in depth but accompanied almost everywhere by temperatures below the season's normal. To Texas and the southern Appalachians it meant rain.

Washington, Philadelphia and Manhattan Island saw their first snowfall of the year.

Those cities as well as the entire Mississippi and Ohio valleys were to look whiter than ever today, the government predicted. "Continued cold" and "colder" were promised the midlands.

Colorado sent a low barometric area slowly eastward. Another moved north from Tennessee where a heavy snow storm grazed the countryside.

These disturbances promised to make travel uncomfortable and hazardous over the weekend. The snow was expected to fade out on the Atlantic coast early next week.

Meanwhile Lander, Wyo., recorded temperatures 26 degrees below zero. Yellowstone Park 20 below, Helena, Mont., 16, Rapid City, S. D., 14, Duluth, Minn., 10; Denver, 8; Escabana, Mich., and Bismarck, N. D., 6, as their yesterday's lows.

Some California points were colder than Point Barrow, Alaska. America's northernmost town, which was 30 degrees above zero. The citrus crop was in danger of frost throughout the usually sunny state.

The New York morning mail plane arrived in Chicago ahead of schedule but a western passenger ship had to send its customers from Cheyenne, Wyo., to Laramie by truck. They included George Jessel, singer and comedian.

POOL OF BLOOD MARKS SCENE OF HOG THEFT

A hog weighing about 250 pounds disappeared Friday night from the farm of Earl Baptist several miles northwest of Jacksonville, a large splash of blood marking the spot where the animal was killed. It is believed the thieves stuck the hog with a knife, and then loaded it into a wagon or truck.

Sheriff Fletcher Blackburn was called to the farm this morning to make an investigation. Mr. Baptist said that only one hog was missing.

LOCAL ARCHITECTS PLAN ASTORIA CHURCH

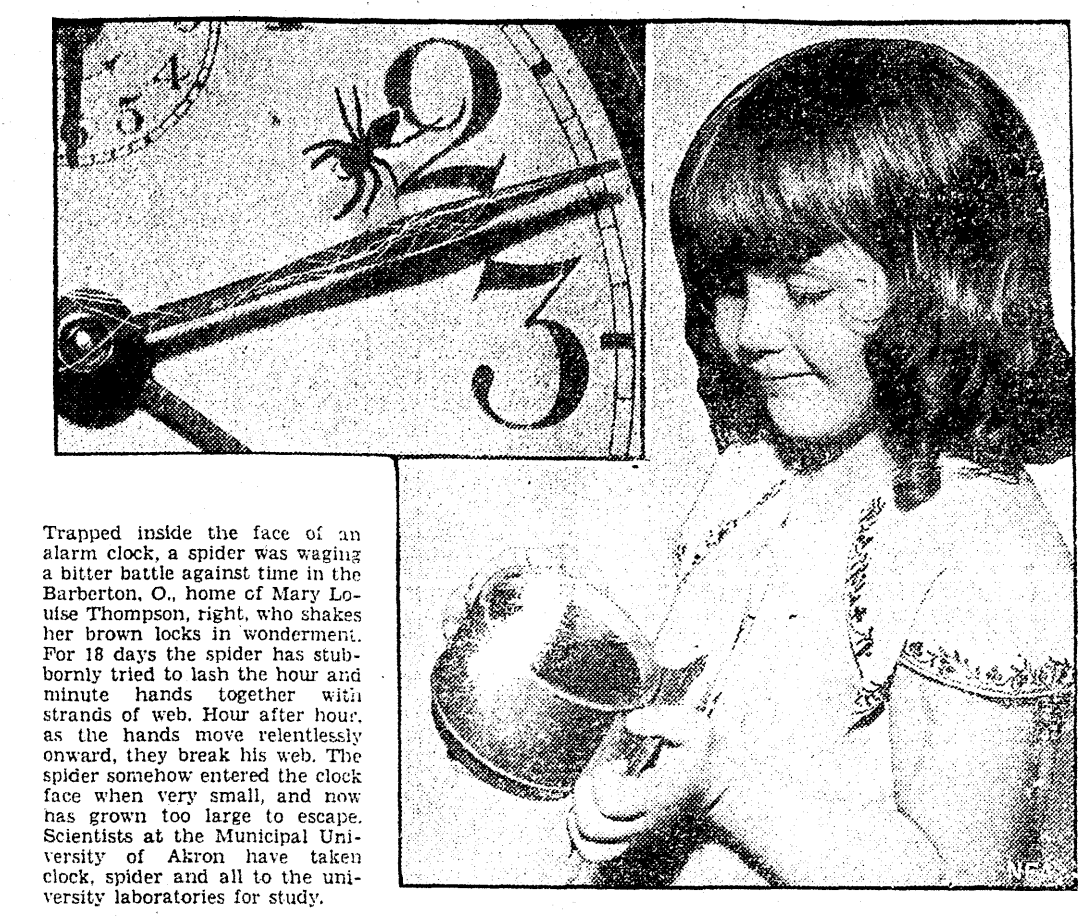

Johnson and Otto, local architects have returned from Astoria, Ill., where they let the contract for the building of the First Methodist Episcopal church in that city.

Eyman and Son, of Canton, Ill. were the successful bidders and will start work immediately on the $15,000 edifice.

The new structure will replace their church which was built fifty years ago and destroyed during the present year by fire. The Norman English style of architecture will be used, and the new church will be built of buff colored brick and stone to conform to the best practice in that style. The main portion of the building will be 32-72 feet in size, and contain an auditorium having exposed half timber trusses. The permanent seating capacity of the auditorium will be 200.

The ground floor will contain the banquet and social room, also capable of seating 200 at banquets, and a completely equipped kitchen, boiler room, etc.

Spider in Bitter 18-Day Fight Against Time

Trapped inside the face of an alarm clock, a spider was waging a bitter battle against time in the Barborton, O., home of Mary Louise Thompson, right, who shakes her brown locks in wonderment. For 18 days the spider has stubbornly tried to lash the hour and minute hands together with strands of web. Hour after hour, as the hands move relentlessly onward, they break his web. The spider somehow entered the clock face when very small, and now has grown too large to escape. Scientists at the Municipal University, Akron, have taken clock spider and all to the university laboratories for study.

FRANCE WILL PAY UP WITH RESERVATIONS

Premier Herriot Will Announce Fact To Parliament

Paris, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Although Premier Herriot has not yet announced tonight that he undoubtedly will recommend to parliament that next Thursday's payment of interest on the French war debt to the United States be made with reservations.

These reservations, it was said, will follow the government's decision as to its reservation of the decision as to its decision but the reservations it will recommend have not been fully decided upon. One of them is likely to be that this payment shall be the last one until a general and final revision is made.

Long Session
The cabinet held a five-hour session today most of which was devoted to discussion of disarmament because of the imminence of decision to be made at Geneva. The cabinet will meet again tomorrow morning but in an effort to find a formula under which the chamber would be willing to vote for payment due the United States next Thursday. They were not wholly successful.

The foreign affairs and finance committees of the chamber worked out a resolution providing for payment—but only on the condition that the United States agree before Thursday to a debt conference which would liquidate the entire problem.

The resolution declared that the debt agreement with the United States was founded upon payments expected from Germany through declaration of French reparations in parliament and also within the structure of the Young plan. It quoted a letter from Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon to President Harding on June 21, 1921 to the effect that "it is necessary to consider in a comprehensive fashion the total debt of the indebted countries, their situation and financial resources in order to formulate a project of payment of which the interested countries can reasonably assure execution."

The resolution adds that "a modification of circumstances was provoked by the general economic conference at Hoover on June 2, 1931, and this was the work of the American government itself." It declared that international transfers without counterbalancing goods is one essential cause of the world economic crisis and said that an international debt conference is necessary in connection with the projected world economic conference.

In conclusion, the resolution said that the Chamber of Deputies "can authorize payment of sums coming due December 15 only if previously the United States accepts assembling of an international conference before any new payment is due."

WEDDING DATE OF RODENBERGS IS OBSERVED

A large supper and bridge party was given recently by Mr. and Mrs. August Rodenberg at the Colonial Inn. Rodenberg is in honor of their 30th wedding anniversary. Mr. Rodenberg is a teacher at I. S. D. and all the 26 guests were friends of the hosts and all connected with I. S. D. A chicken dinner was served.

High scores at bridge were Mrs. Lillian Welch and D. T. Cloud. The Rodenbergs received many tokens of esteem from their many friends in commemoration of the day.

Youth Opens His Mouth And Lands Himself In Jail

Chicago, Dec. 10.—(AP)—If a 17-year-old youth hadn't opened his mouth, perhaps he wouldn't have been lodged in jail tonight as one of the four robbers who a year ago shot and killed Policeman James J. Kaplis during the holdup of the Beachview Gardens.

Three others already are serving sentence for the crime. Today a tip came that authorities would find the fourth participant, Frank Piazza, in a certain apartment.

Police went there and found a youth reading a newspaper. "I'm not Piazza," said the youth, "don't be silly."

"Open your mouth," a policeman ordered. The youth complied. Unwittingly, police said, he had given them the surest sign of his identity—a broken tooth. Then, officers said, he admitted his identity and said he had been hiding in Detroit.

At police headquarters he was asked to make a statement. "Nerts," he replied.

BANDMASTER OF AUSTIN SCHOOL IS MURDERED

Wife Sees Abductors Drag Husband Into Automobile

Chicago, Dec. 10.—(AP)—A man identified by cards in his pocket as Edwin O. Schildhauer, 27, bandmaster at the Austin High school, was found shot to death in suburban Cicero tonight several minutes after his wife reported he had been kidnapped by two men.

The wife, Frances, called Fillmore street police and said that her husband had been kidnapped near their home as he started to attend a meeting of bandmasters.

She said she was unable to give a reason for the reported kidnapping. Soon after Mrs. Schildhauer reported the kidnapping, a body was found in Cicero. Police said apparently the man was a gangland victim.

Police said the man had been shot and that his head had been crushed by a blow. A small amount of money and some jewelry was left on the body, indicating, police said, that robbery was not the motive for the killing.

Mrs. Schildhauer said the two men forced her husband into a battered automobile about 100 feet from their home.

"I saw them from the window," she said. "They stepped out of an old car and stopped him. They talked for a while and it looked like they were quarreling. My husband walked away from them but they ran after him and dragged him into the car. Then they drove away."

The Fillmore police were investigating the kidnapping when the body was discovered.

LITERBERRY CLASS AT BEAVERS HOME

Literberry, Dec. 10.—The December social of the Live Wire class of the Baptist church was held Friday evening at the home of Ruth and Harry Beavers. Games were played during the evening and after refreshments were served, the group adjourned to meet in January at the home of Harold Daniels.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Beavers, Harold Daniels, Gladys Sorrell, Freida Daniels, Lloyce O'Leary, Albert Roth, Eugene Young, Lawrence Orin and Paul Malhotra, Alvin Rexroat, Ruth and Harry Beavers, Mable Alice and James Arthur Beavers and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beavers.

Joy Brainer, A. Ratliff and Dean Chapman were hauling coal "on the mines today."

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Crum, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Thompson, Miss Lora Peterson, Orville Peterson, Earl Rexroat, were Saturday callers in Jacksonville.

GRIDIRON CLUB PUTS BIG SHOTS UPON THE RACK

Weight Of Humor Falls On Roosevelt Administration

Washington, Dec. 10.—(AP)—All in good fun, the gridiron club tonight put officialdom upon the rack of its satirical skits, rehearsing political history in a manner well calculated to make official ears burn.

Remembering November, however, the weight of their humor fell more heavily on the incoming Roosevelt administration than upon President Hoover, who with many defeated associates, was present at the banquet of the famous Newspapermen's Club.

Portrayed was the landing of the great explorer, Franklin Van Roosevelt, come to buy from Chief Curry and his Indians the Island of Manhattan and "anything else he could get."

He got the whole country, after promising to give the chief "firewater" and exhibiting a bottle of "firewater."

Followed an auction of the effects of the late Republican party, conducted in impersonation by Charles D. Hilles of New York and Postmaster General Brown. There being no bidders nor assets to sell, they departed with the auctioneering flag and bell.

There was the famous "mellow-drama," "Away Down South" with Uncle Yarnier forbidden by Dr. Farley to use his voice, and the fat girl Tariffa complaining that Pat Harrison "said he was going to knock my smoot off." Tariffa also had difficulty tracing her parentage.

The newspapermen actors then presented "The Merchant of Venice." One of the first plays on debt cancellation ever written by an Englishman, in which the ambassadors of Great Britain, France and Belgium, who were among the diners, learned that Uncle Shylock was going to get his pound of flesh, or else. But "Uncle" wound up by being Santa Claus, admitting he was "only chasing rainbows."

President Hoover, guest of honor, spoke and so did Senator Watson of Indiana, but the gridiron rule is "no reporters" so what they said is not reported.

The Gridironers, presenting Mr. Hoover with a large bronze gridiron, remembered that the first time he attended one of their toasting events was an even twenty years ago. "Jim" Watson, then a young representative, had his first taste of gridiron 23 years ago to the night.

For the president's benefit a quartet sang:

"In our streets green grass will grow," a song which recalled a certain speech of the late campaign.

Other memories of defeat appeared in "The retreat from Moscow" with Generals Smoot and Fess surrounded by a tattered reminder as reports arrived from "Corporal Coolidge" and others, each one sadder and funnier than the last. In the end Field Marshal Watson sang:

"Seven-cent cotton, thirty-cent wheat."

"How in the world can a poor man eat?"

"X x x
"No use talking."
"Any man's beat."
"With seven-cent cotton,
"And thirty-cent wheat."

GIVE PROGRAM AT INSTALLATION CEREMONY

A program of music and readings was enjoyed at the close of the installation ceremony of the Franklin O. E. S. lodge recently. Miss Grace Armstrong and Mrs. Hallie Gray gave a piano duet and Miss Margaret Cannon gave a reading.

Mrs. Josephine Muckelston, of Alexander, was installing officer.

Mrs. Cora I. Littler, of Jacksonville, installing marshal.

Mrs. Charlotte Harry, of Jacksonville, installing chaplain.

Miss Grace Armstrong, of Franklin, installing organist.

COMMITTEES PUSH AHEAD WITH HEARINGS ON BEER AND VETERAN MEASURES

GRAPE GROWERS APPEAR BEFORE HOUSE GROUP

Want Wine Decanter Back On Dinner Table

By Cecil B. Dickson
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, Dec. 10.—(AP)—A plea that the wine decanter be restored to the dinner table was made by representatives of the grape-growing industry today before the house ways and means committee in its hearings on legalization of wine and beer.

For hours the committee heard "naturally fermented virus liquor" extolled by a French wine producer and representatives from the many grape-producing states.

Dr. James M. Doran, commissioner of industrial alcohol, in testimony before the house appropriations committee, meanwhile, recommended the use on a federal permit system to control the manufacture of legalized beer.

At Leggers Mercy
The wine proponents were headed by Representative Lea (D., Calif.), who declared that the grape producers "are at the mercy of the bootleggers." He estimated that a tax of 20 cents a gallon as provided in the Collier bill would produce more than $20,000,000 in federal revenue annually on a consumption of more than 100,000,000 gallons.

The opposition of brewers to the inclusion of wine in the measure on the ground that the question of it being non-intoxicating might imperil the beer provision was assailed by Marion De Vries of Washington, representative of the Grape Growers League of California.

Strong opposition to "bottled pre-mixed highballs and cocktails" was voiced by Rufus S. Lusk, of Washington, national legislative officer of the crusaders, who declared "this is an attempt on the part of the distillers to open up the sale of hard liquor before the repeal of the eighteenth amendment."

The "bottled high-ball" was sponsored before the committee by Representative Collier (D., N. Y.), as a big revenue producer.

The committee will devote Monday and Tuesday to testimony of representatives of dry organizations. On Wednesday, Secretary Mills will give his views on the proposed legislation.

Mrs. Henry W. Peabody of the women's national committee for law enforcement, New York City, is the first witness slated for Monday and Tuesday. Dr. P. Scott McBride of Washington, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, heads the list.

Collier said he hoped the committee could go into executive session Wednesday afternoon to begin drafting the measure to be reported to the house for action probably later in the week.

COLLEGE TAX CASES SETTLED BY COUNTY BOARD

Commissioners, Colleges Agree to Settlement of Tax Payment

The Morgan county board of county commissioners passed a resolution Saturday settling the amount of taxes to be paid this year by Illinois and Shurtleff colleges. The resolution sets forth the amount to be paid by the two institutions, the Shurtleff college's tax payment being one-half of the amount assessed and Illinois college's amount one-third of the assessed amount.

The resolutions followed a hearing in the local county court when the two colleges offered objections to paying the taxes, and the objections were sustained. The county commissioners were considering carrying the case to the supreme court when a settlement was agreed upon, the officials deciding that owing to the cost of taking the case to a higher court it would be better to make a settlement, and the taxes will be extended in the full amount against property owned by the two colleges in the county, for next year.

The amount of the taxes, penalty and costs assessed against Illinois college was $551.17, and under the agreement the school will pay $183.73. The full amount assessed against Shurtleff college was $246.45, and the amount agreed upon for payment by that school is $123.23.

The resolutions direct State Attorney Wilford H. Absher to compromise on the amounts above mentioned, and that he refrain from appealing from the judgment of the county court given at the September term.

CONSIGNMENT SALE HELD AT WOODSON

The receipts at the consignment sale at Woodson were much heavier Friday, although the cold weather checked the attendance. There were 392 hogs and 121 head of cattle of all kinds sold on a barely steady market. The total sales amounted to $2,758.34.

J. L. Henry and L. L. Seelye were the auctioneers and F. J. Flynn and S. J. Cannon were the clerks. The next sale will be December 16.

Woman Summons Police To Look Over Package

Chicago, Dec. 16.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary Kowalski knew she wasn't popular with her son-in-law, Matthew Stock. In fact, she said, when Matt was summoned in a divorce proceeding brought by her daughter, Lillian, the son-in-law said a lot of things that weren't complimentary.

Today Mrs. Kowalski received a package with Matt's return address upon it. While Christmas was near, she decided Matt wouldn't be sending her a present—anyway, not a nice one.

"Maybe," she sniffed, "it's a bomb!" She called police and imported her fears to them. They doused the package in water—a police custom for suspected bombs—and opened it.

The package contained old clothing, snapshots of Lillian, a razor and several blades. A note in the package said:

"Returned herewith all I ever got from you... P.H.I.I. Matt."

FISH FROZEN 40 MINUTES IS REVIVED

Russian Biologist's Experiments Are Announced

By Stewart French
Associated Press Staff Writer
Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Dr. N. A. Borodin, eminent Russian biologist, now experimenting at Harvard University, today took an Alaskan blackfish, frozen as stiff as shoe leather, out of a specially constructed electric refrigerator and dropped it into a jar of water. Within less than two minutes, the fish twitched and, in a few more minutes, was thrashing briskly about.

The fish had been, to all appearances, dead—frozen into rigidity for 40 minutes in a temperature of 15 degrees below zero, centigrade.

Suspended Animation
The biologist explained that this state of suspended animation was known as anabiosis.

Dr. Borodin was somewhat reluctant to discuss the eventual significance of his experiments, but conceded that some day they might have some "practical"—that is, commercial—use, such as, for example, freezing a live fish for sale alive in the inland cities of America.

"But what is death?" replied the scientist to a question, "my experiments with fish and insects in the anabiotic state have caused me to be the more puzzled. It is, perhaps, a question for the physiologists, but my experiments open numerous fields for investigation."

"You ask, for example, why fish frozen in water, their natural element, fail to revive, and yet those frozen in dry air do, as you have seen. The answer I do not know—yet."

The lower the temperature, the less time the fish can remain in the freezing plant and come back to life. And the temperature and time vary greatly with the species of fish. The lowly carp is, for example, tougher than the ornamental goldfish, but the common hornpout, popularly known as the bulldog, is more robust, from the point of view of anabiosis.

Alaskan blackfish is the most hardy of all.

Most fresh water fish and insects, of the latter notably the oak borer, can successfully be frozen into an anabiotic state and revived. But the experiment, so far, has succeeded with warm blooded creatures.

The blackfish is used extensively by the Indians of Alaska as food for themselves and their dogs.

Dr. Borodin was formerly of the University of Petrograd in imperial Russia and is now curator of fishes at the museum of comparative zoology at Harvard.

MARLIN COKER COUNCILLOR OF DEMOLAY GROUP

Marlin Coker was named Master Councillor of the Louis Henry Clampt Chapter of DeMolay for the coming year at a business meeting last evening. Fred Deatherage was elected to the office of Senior Councillor and Robert Sturdy was named Junior Councillor.

During the meeting plans were discussed for organizing a basketball team again this year with the hope of being able to enter the state Demolay tournament this year. A discussion was also held concerning the public majority service and installation.

The state report was read, showing that the Jacksonville chapter ranks fourth for 1932 with forty-three members having been initiated this year. Announcement was made that the Springfield chapter will induce a class in connection with a dance to be held on the evening of December 23.

Horses, like elephants and many other animals, have the power of sleeping while standing up.

DEBATE WILL BE PLENTIFUL WHEN BILLS COME UP

Federal Pay Problem Is Also One Of Big Issues

Washington, Dec. 10.—(AP)—A week full upon both chambers of congress today, but committees pushed ahead with hearings on beer, veterans legislation and other controversial issues that will stir up plenty of debate later.

The first and biggest of the vital annual supply bills was started on its long journey today. The house appropriations committee reported the treasury-post office bill carrying $961,416,000 for the two departments. This brought before congress what is bound to be on the of the first of the season the problem of federal pay.

The bill carried a continuation of the 8 1-3 per cent pay cut through the furlough system now in effect, but rejected President Hoover's recommendation of 11 per cent on all salaries over the first $10,000.

A slice of $194,831,236 was made in the appropriations for the two departments, as the committee met the demand for reductions in governmental expenditures.

The senate was in recess over the week end, waiting for the house to send over the legislation which must go through at this session. That body, in a brief session, considered District of Columbia bills.

There was no let-up for the house ways and means committee, however. As it passed on with hearings on modification of the Volstead act in an effort to get a bill ready by next week.

Representatives of grape producers sought to have the bill legalize light wines as well as beer, asserting that the consumption has increased in this country but the vineyards were getting control of the industry.

On the senate side of the capitol a joint committee heard Frank T. Hines, director of veterans affairs, defend the justice of disability ratings for veterans, but suggest the creation of a sound policy for taking care of ex-servicemen.

A standing of trouble ahead for President Hoover's government reorganization program was sounded by Speaker Garner in a statement that "the sentiment of congress is against transformation of the navy into a work of the army engineers to the interior department."

As senate leaders prepared to resume debate Monday on the Philippine independence bill, there were expressions of resentment at the request for a "serious" bill giving war immediate freedom. The bill would result in independence after a period of 18 years.

Two election contests were filed in the house during the day. In one, James McAndrews, democrat, contended for the seat of Representative Fred A. Britten (R., Ill.), and the other A. C. Tipton, also a democrat, challenged the selection of B. Carroll Reece, Tennessee republican.

Finances of College Involved Only in Small Way By Bank Closing

Stating that he is at loss to explain how rumors got abroad that the closing of the Avers National bank would force MacMurray College for Women to close its doors, and that the finances of the college were involved only in a small way, President Charles P. McClelland, of MacMurray, issued the following statement last night:

The closing of the Avers National Bank, which has seriously affected the finances of MacMurray college. The

The "City State"

Prof. Charles E. Merriam, Chicago University political economist, has suggested the formation of a "city state" as a solution for the difficulties of large cities. This plan is used in Europe, especially in Germany, and it was also followed in ancient Greece.

The Greek city-state was a law unto itself and the various units of the Greek nation had no common head except as they formed various confederations for trade or war. But a city-state in Europe is a unit united with the nation where it is located, and in the United States such a unit would probably assume the status of a sovereign state.

The plan is not radical or revolutionary.

tionary. Commercially it is already in operation, and the creation of political entities with boundaries corresponding to present commercial limits of certain metropolitan centers would be comparatively easy.

Prof. Merriam would have the new city-state transcend state boundaries and include the areas which have common interests. He points out that the city is the city and the country is the country and scarcely ever do the two meet and co-operate successfully. Under such a plan Chicago would include a large area, taking a slice of Indiana and perhaps two counties in Illinois. New York would include part of the Jersey coast.

Thus the more rural sections of the country would be relieved of the burden of always threatened control by powerful cities and the cities would be able to work out their own tangled problems in their own way. Rural sections would not have to keep up with the city Jones in spending the taxpayer's money while the cities would not have to give account to governments with which they are entirely out of sympathy.

With Reservations

The French proposal to pay the Dec. 15 installment of the war debt with reservations is certainly the last resort in the many attempts which have been made to cheat the American people out of what is justly due them. The French hope to get some sort of credit from the payment on a possible future scaling down of the debts.

But once an installment is paid, it should be received by Uncle Sam and the transaction closed. Private persons who pay debts do it not with reservations; they may pay less than the full amount but what they pay is paid and that's all there is to it. The reservation plan indicates by its very vagueness that it is the last, feeble effort to avoid payment, to avoid the wrecking of national credit which would certainly come to France if she refused to pay. A nation with its vaults filled with gold should have too much pride to adopt such a crawling attitude toward a just debt.

The debt installments of France and England will be paid next Thursday. Both nations know it and official Washington knows it. Further quibbling is unworthy of these leading powers of the old world and indicates a weakness or a cunning by no means creditable to them.

WILL ROGERS says:

To the Editor of The Jacksonville-Courier:

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 10.—Notre Dame is here. Notre Dame is here to carry on for Rockne. Would it be wonderful if we had political leaders who could leave ideals and systems that the young knew were fundamentally right. The difference the coach has spent a lifetime teaching co-operation. He knows what he wants. While the political candidate only knows that he wants to vote for him. But from then on he is just guessing. Imagine a politician inspiring voters with "Give us one more vote boys, for the memory of dear old Senator Jasbo." "Ah hooley, who was old Senator Jasbo? And what did he ever do?" But Notre Dame will do it for Rockne as long as a football is blown up.

CARLOADINGS INCREASE
Washington, Dec. 10.—The American Railway Association announced today that carloadings for the week ended December 3 were 547,641 cars, an increase of 53,579 above the preceding week.

The figure for the week, however, was a reduction of 98,905 cars from the corresponding week last year and 239,611 under the same week two years ago.

2 MORGAN COUNTY BOYS WIN PRIZES FOR BABY BEEVES

East St. Louis, Ill., Dec. 10.—The Fifth Annual Baby Beef Show of the St. Louis Live Stock Exchange closed yesterday with the sale of prize winning calves. Billie Stevens, Greenville, Ill., exhibited the Grand Champion Angus of the Show. She is a 12 year old 4-11 club member. Her calf weighed 99 lbs. and sold for $140 per pound, the highest price realized in the West this year for any Junior Show calf. It was purchased by Karl Heim of the American Packing Company, St. Louis, Mo.

In addition to the sale price received for her calf, Billie won cash prizes totaling $180.00. Reserve Champion, a Hereford exhibited by Arthur Ertz, Odessa, Mo., weighing 880 lbs., sold at 25c a pound to Charles Pershall, president Tri-City Grocery Company, Granite City, Ill. The first prize Shorthorn steer exhibited by Carl Bates, LaMare, Mo., weighing 980 lbs., sold to August Busch of St. Louis at 20c a pound.

There were 555 calves entered in this Show and Col. Gross said it is the largest single entry baby beef event in the country. The Herefords lead with 223 entries. The Angus came second with 187, with the Short-horns third.

The buyers of the other principal prize winners included most of the large hotels of St. Louis, the leading packers and butchers of the city and many grocers and meat markets. Among the railroads buying prize calves were the Wabash, M. & K. & T., Big 4, Burlington and Alton. The 60 prize winners made a grand average of $11.22 per cwt. These 60 prize calves brought about $4,000 per head more than they would have realized had they been sold on the open market. Prize winners were as follows:

You no Doubt Have Read About The New Federal Home Loan Bank

Probably you are wondering what this new branch of the government, putting Uncle Sam's strength behind the Savings and Loan Associations of the country, can mean to you as a Savings & Loan investor or borrower.

Our purpose is to explain these facts from time to time. The first and most important value is Insured Safety for investors in savings and loan shares.

The second is increased helpfulness for home owners and borrowers. Jacksonville Savings & Loan meets both these requirements. Shares reserved in the new series January 1. Monthly payments, single payment, or paid up. Call and let us explain.

SCHOOL CHILDREN HAVE BEGUN SALE OF HEALTH SEALS

School children over all of Morgan county are now selling Christmas seals. To the individual boy or girl in the county outside of Jacksonville selling the most seals will be given a $2.50 gold piece. The boy and girl in Jacksonville who sells the most seals will receive this same prize, a $2.50 gold piece.

Remember, you are rendering to Jacksonville and Morgan county two very valuable services by purchasing these Christmas seals. First, you will provide milk for the undernourished children in all schools now without this service. Second, you will help to employ a much needed additional public health nurse who will guard the health of the school children. Tuberculosis kills more children under the age of twenty-one than any other communicable disease and takes as its toll one out of every five persons who die between the ages of fifteen and forty-five.

The boys and girls are helping to lower this rate by selling seals. Won't you help by buying seals?

LOUISE LEWIS, Seal Sale Chairman.

REV. JOHNSON TO PREACH

Rev. William R. Johnson of this city will preach Sunday morning at the First Baptist church in Rod-house. Rev. Johnson is well known in Greene county as he has served several churches there.

Al Smith Strikes a Blow at Political Patronage

In the role of government reformer rather than politician, former Governor Alfred E. Smith is shown today telling the state legislative committee in New York that the city government should be unified under one control rather than the present system of five borough operations. In his hands you see the charts from which he detailed his comprehensive plan under which nearly 100 elected officials would leave their posts.

Mo. is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Roy.

The Ada Robinson chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, have elected their new officers: Miss Lena Cline, worthy matron; Mrs. Rachel Ross, associate matron; F. W. Bristow, associate patron; Mrs. Frances Brannan, conductor; Mrs. Mae Jekisch, associate conductor; Mrs. Mayne Jacobs, secretary; Miss Lydia Moulton, treasurer. Mrs. W. B. Finn entertained two tables of bridge Wednesday evening. Prizes were won by Mrs. Mollie Weaver and Mrs. Will Devlin.

WOMEN COMMAND ATTENTION IN INVENTIVE WORK

"Women's Contribution to the Field of Invention" was the subject discussed by Mrs. Leroy Johnson at the meeting of the South Side Circle which met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. O. Walt, 120 West-minster street.

Mrs. Johnson in her talk said, "the actual number of patents granted to women is still small but the rate of increase is considerably high. The total contribution over a period of ten years is less than two per cent of the total issue. However, these inventions are not confined to minor accessories in each field of activity but in many cases are contributions to basic processes and substances."

In concluding her speech, she said, "for research the nation will be rewarded with increase in inventive and creative service from women."

PROBATE COURT ORDER. Estate of John T. Tribe—Entry of appearance and waiver of notice. Evidence heard in open court and will admitted to probate. Petition for letters testamentary allowed. Ordered to issue to Mary A. Tribe. Bond waived.

ARENZVILLE BOY GETS MEDAL FOR RAISING SWINE

Virginia, Dec. 10.—The Cass County Farm Bureau this week awarded the gold medal furnished by Thomas E. Wilson, Chicago packer, to the champion 4-H club member in Cass county, and which was won by Philip Krohe, Arenzville.

Young Krohe was chosen for this award at a meeting of club leaders September 17th, and his record book together with record of achievement in club work was considered with others for state championship honors. He was one of the charter members of the Pig club started in Cass county some four years ago, and has a nice herd of pure bred Poland-China hogs raised from his original purchase of one gilt. He furnished several gilts of his own raising to new club members this year on a partnership basis worked out by the Farm Bureau. In addition to being county champion, he also showed the first prize Poland-China gilt at the annual Pig club show held last Sunday, and placed first in the showman's contest.

MISSIONARY WILL SPEAK SUNDAY AT BAPTIST CHURCH

An interesting story of missionary work among the Crow Indians will be told Sunday morning at First Baptist church by Mrs. William A. Petzoldt, who with her husband, has worked among the members of this tribe for about 30 years. She will occupy the pulpit at the morning preaching hour, the pastor, Rev. T. H. Marsi, announced today.

Mrs. Petzoldt, has with her husband, Dr. W. A. Petzoldt, served the Crow Indians in Montana, for almost thirty years. Beginning in 1903, Dr. and Mrs. Petzoldt's work is a record of real pioneering and progress.

Dr. and Mrs. Petzoldt started their work among the Indians with no knowledge of tribal language, and little knowledge of Indians in general. They lived in tents at first, until their own and the Indians' labor they built the first home mission school—house—a home of hewn logs in the Little Big Horn Mountains. Mrs. Petzoldt quickly won the love of the Crow people by her constant devotion and services on their behalf and many years ago was adopted as a member of the tribe and given a Crow name. At their church on the Little Big Horn river, they also ordained Mrs. Petzoldt as a minister of the gospel.

Mrs. Petzoldt directs the religious services of the Indian church during the frequent absences of Dr. Petzoldt, whose duties take him to remote sections of the reservation to conduct other services or out of the state on speaking tours. Both Dr. and Mrs. Petzoldt are frequently called from their field to inform the denomination of Indian problems and progress.

With the financial assistance of friends of the Indians and the Indians themselves, the Petzoldts have erected a chapel and modern community house in Lodge Grass, Montana. Where once was a small teepee village, is now a modern community where religious education, a public school, health education, and well-rounded social program for Indian young people, have developed.

MAC MURRAY Y. W. C. A. GIVES CHILDRENS PARTY
Santa Claus finally consented to appear at the MacMurray College Y. W. C. A. party for needy children and distribute gifts to the children. He made one quick trip before the party to set up a Christmas tree in the Social Hall and hang little red stockings filled with candy and nuts on the fire-place for the children.

The little guests were greeted with the sight of the tree and the stockings and a glowing fire in the fire-place, that was surrounded by little chairs. The Y. W. girls started the party by serving their guests with light refreshments.

Constance Alkire told the children stories and Katherine Trantzel helped them play games. Finally Santa Claus appeared and gave the children gifts of clothes and toys that had been piled up under the tree.

MacMurray College Notes

Dr. Jean Brady Jones, for several years Professor of Speech at MacMurray College, writes of her work in the Winona State Teachers College at Winona, Minnesota. The College there is using examination exercises which Mrs. Jones used in her oral English work at MacMurray. Mrs. Jones writes that she and her family are comfortably situated in a pleasant home overlooking the college campus. She asked to be remembered to all of her Jacksonville friends.

The new stacks for the addition to the library stack room are erected and the stairway leading to the annex is completed. The stairway will be installed the coming week and will provide much needed room for the new books that are constantly being added. The annex building provides for approximately ten thousand additional books.

Mrs. N. M. Eldridge, of St. Elmo, Illinois, has returned to her home after spending several days with her daughter, Miss Blondelle Eldridge, who has been ill.

Members of the Dramatic Club are working on "Barabbas," a religious drama written by Dorothy Leaman for the Federal Council of Churches.

The Christmas Vesper service will be held Sunday afternoon, December 11, at four o'clock in Music Hall. Music will be furnished by the College Choir under the direction of Mr. William Z. Fletcher. The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

The Seniors were hostesses Saturday evening at a house dance given in the lounge of Jane Hall. Christmas decorations were used and a colorful setting arranged. Dr. Annabel Newton, class adviser, chaperoned the affair. Miss Bernice York, general chairman, was assisted by a committee.

Miss Dorothy Messinger, '33, student assistant in the department of secretarial education, is spending the week-end with Miss Crum at her home on West College avenue.

The annual Christmas party given by the members of the Young Woman's Christian Association for the children of Jacksonville, was held Saturday afternoon in the College social room. Margaret Bailey, social chairman, Dr. Isabel Stewart, adviser, and Louise Fisher, Y. W. president, were in charge. A program consisting of children's games was enjoyed. Santa Claus distributed gifts to all the children from a brilliantly lighted Christmas tree set up in the social room. Besides the usual toys, clothes were also distributed with the other presents. A special committee of the Y. W. C. A. under the direction of Miss Suzanne Schaeffer has been making clothes, collecting and repairing children's books, and making scrap books. The committee with the help of all the girls who were willing to give a few hours to the work, completed twenty-two night garments and fifteen dresses. One dozen boy's sweaters were also among the garments distributed by Santa Claus.

Following the annual custom, the Y. W. C. A. girls will go out caroling Friday evening, December 18, visiting the hospitals and shut-ins of the city.

The December meeting of Trinitarian Club will be held in the form of a Christmas party, which is an annual affair. This year the party will be held in the Athletic Field House and will be of the genuinely old-fashioned Christmas type. Miss Lloyd Drinkwater is in charge of the carols. Miss Cornelia Green of the games, and Miss Louise Fisher of the food.

Dr. McClelland returned from Evanston Friday evening after attending the sessions of the Chicago Area Council of the Methodist Episcopal church held at the North Shore Hotel, December 7 and 8.

Phi Nu society members entertained the student body following the formal dinner in the dining hall Thursday evening. The program consisted of moving pictures of May Day and other phases of campus life. The committee in charge was composed of Karleen Hast, chairman; Dorothy Foster, Betty Ann Brown, Rosalind Boland and Marjory Mayhew.

The December meeting of the Jacksonville branch of the A. A. U. W. was held Saturday evening, December 10, in the social room. Dr. Ralph Dennis, dean of the School of Speech of Northwestern University read, "Aunt Polly's Story of Mankind," a satire of present day civilization by Donald O. Stewart.

Touchdown Break in Closing Minutes of Game Gives South 7 to 6 Victory Over North

Baltimore, Dec. 10.—(AP)—A touchdown break in the closing minutes of the game gave the South All-Stars a 7 to 6 victory over the North All-Stars in a football battle here today.

Both touchdowns were made on sensational breaks and victory came to the South from the accurate placement kick of Guy Turnbow, University of Mississippi tackle.

Turnbow's long punts had gradually forced the North back during the fourth quarter, and Chase, quarterback from Brown University, found himself forced to punt from his own 15 yard line. As he booted the ball, Roney Hunter, an end from Marshall College in West Virginia, crashed through the line and leaped high in the air.

The ball struck Hunter squarely in the chest, and skidded over the packed snow across the goal line. Hunter fell on it for the six points that tied the score.

Snappy Living Room Suites, charming Cedar Chests, comfortable Easy Chairs, attractive Bed Room Suites, make lasting gifts.

HOPPER & HAMM'S

Dick Harlow, of Western Maryland, Coach of the Southern eleven, had given his boys some tricky criss-cross plays, and it was on one of these the North touchdown was made.

Corzine, fullback from Davis and Elkins, had the ball and was preparing to hand it to one of his teammates when it shot out of his hands and into the air. Cliff Aultman, Geneva tackle, snatched the ball before it touched the ground, raced twenty yards for the touchdown. He was untouched in his dash. Chase's attempt at placement was wide.

Score by quarters:

North 6 0 0 0—6
South 0 0 0 7—7

Scoring: North—Touchdown—Aultman, Geneva. South—Touchdown—Hunter, Marshall (sub for Wood); point after touchdown—Turnbow, Mississippi (placement kick).

Referee—George Hoban, Dartmouth. Umpire—Herb Armstrong, Tufts. Head linesman—M. J. Thompson, Georgetown. Field judge—Vic Schmidt.

REDLEG SENIORS TO PLAY BLUEBOYS

Have Many Former Illinois College Players in Line-Up—Will Open the Year on Own Court During Holiday Season.

The Jacksonville State Hospital Red Leg's senior team will open their 1934-35 season next Wednesday night on the Liberty Hall court where they meet Coach La Rue Van Meter's Illinois College Blue Boys. Appearing in the Red Leg line-up will be three former Illinois College athletes, Lambert Bunch, at a forward position; Freddie Stanton at guard and Marvin (Red) Beely at the other guard position.

The Red Leg personnel includes: Goleen, former Jacksonville high athlete, Dietz, a diminutive forward, who saw service with the Red Legs last year and was a member of the 1930 Commonwealth Edison team of Chicago; Hal Jarnigan a forward hauled from Shelbyville and former member of the Sparks College quintet. Jarnigan also was with the Red Legs in 1930. Those who will in all probability hold down the center position is a new comer to the Red Leg line-up and was a member of the Sparks College team, "Bill" Ryan former Franklin high player will play action of one of the guard positions during the season.

The Red Legs, who will be playing their first game this year have shown plenty of accuracy in their passing and shooting during workouts the past two weeks and hope to be able to give the Blue Boys a close game.

The hospital team will open their home season during the Christmas holidays on the new gymnasium court, playing one night a week. All players on the Red Leg roster retain a strict amateur standing.

A few more open dates remain on the 1932-33 schedule which they are anxious to fill as soon as possible.

Round up Boxers for Charity Boxing Tournament Here Next Wednesday, Thursday Eves

Did you know there were 59 boys eager to sling leather at one another's snozzles in this area? Well, there are, at least that many already have entered the Journal and Courier's charity boxing tournament which will be staged next Wednesday and Thursday nights at the Auto Inn.

And there may be more—because the entry list does not close until 6:30 on Wednesday evening when the pairings will be made. Entries in every one of the eight classes have been received, and you'll find the boys' names at the tail end of this story. The Journal and Courier hope that a few more boys with boxing ambitions will toss their name in the hat with the fighters from all around this section, because the more fighters, the merrier will be the show.

Tickets for the extravaganza of the winter boxing shows are now on sale at four places aside from this office. You can get a general admission for one night for 50 cents, a 50-cent, ringside seat for one night, for 75 cents, and ringside seats for both nights for $1.25. At the Auto Inn, the Pacific hotel on East State street, the Crouse-Clear store on South Main street, and the Wolfe Cigar store on West State street.

Begin Work Monday

Efforts used during the past two weeks in getting boxers for the championship tournament will be shifted to actual preparation of the upstairs arena for the two nights of leather slinging. Matchmaker Guy Woods, who has charge of arranging the interior of the hall, will begin arranging, locating, and assigning the various articles necessary to their respective places.

Dressing rooms, examination rooms, and a weighing room will be provided in the rear of the building where the boxers will be prepared for the bouts. Dr. J. M. Wolfe has volunteered his services as examining physician, and will go over each contestant carefully before permitting him to enter the ring.

Matchmaker Woods said yesterday that he has secured Paddy Walsh, of Springfield to serve as the referee on the final night of the bouts. Two other referees will be selected to name the winners at 6:30 and 7:30. The judges will be competent men.

Weighting in the fighters will begin on Wednesday evening at about 4:30, when the first group of boys are expected to arrive. Weighting will continue until 6:30 and 7:30. The officials of the tournament will be busy arranging the pairings for the opening rounds.

Just Like Any Tournament

The pairings will be made the same as in any other tournament, except that there will not be a seeded draw. All the entrants in one class will have their names tossed into a hat. The names will be drawn out one by one, and pairings made according to the order the names come from the hat. There is an unequal number of names in any class as there is at

100,000 People See Trojans Win 19th Straight Game by Outsmarting South Bend 11

By Bryan Bell

Memorial Coliseum, Los Angeles, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Southern California outplayed Notre Dame for the three periods and outsmarted the visitors all the way today to win the annual football battle between the Trojans and Ramblers 13 to 0. A record crowd of 100,000 saw the home team win its 19th straight game and move a step closer to a second national championship in two years.

The crowd set a new attendance mark for football games this season in the nation and was the biggest assembly ever to witness a game in Los Angeles. The record crowd saw a record performance. The Trojans made history for their seven-year football war with Notre Dame for this was the first time the Howard Jones team has won two successive seasons from its rival, Notre Dame. Notre Dame had to hold a one-point margin for the series, four to three.

The first period was one of caution with Southern California doing the little threatening that was done. The way was opened for the first score in the second period when Warburton ran a kick back from the point from which the ball was punted. Taking the ball on Notre Dame's 44 yard line the cell-like quarter slipped forward to the 30 yard line. Warburton added two more but Griffith going back to pass could not find a likely receiver and held the ball losing five yards.

Pass Scores First

The next effort brought results. Griffith dropped back and tossed the ball to a receiver who was not there rather than a receiver. No one was near the back and he stepped over the goal line for the score.

The next quarter was started by one of the many quick kicks the Trojans employed during the afternoon Jack, which fumbled the ball on his own 25 yard line. Erskine recovered for the home guard on the 25 yard line. A pass was no good but Sparling went to the 17 yard line on a reverse. Griffith made a first down on the ten yard line. Clark made three and then the Trojans picked up four, moving the ball within a yard of the goal line. He then plunged over.

The game brought two strong lines face to face and the decision on points went to Southern California. Notre Dame picked up yardage from scrimmage when nothing vital was involved but in the crises, the Trojans turned the hard charging Ramblers back consistently. The Southern Californians did not gain enough through the Ramblers' forward wall to win any yards, but they did carry the ball from the 25 yard line across the goal in a series of running plays.

The home team used the quick kick to advantage throughout the game, booting the ball over the head of the Notre Dame safety men, and three times grounding the ball inside the visitors' five yard line. Once the ball came to rest less than a yard from the goal.

Notre Dame was not in Southern California territory during the first period until the elusive Mike Koken stepped his way to the 43 yard line. The visitors did not get past the center of the field again until the final period.

Notre Dame gained 131 yards on seven completed passes from a total of 17 attempted. Southern California completed only one pass of eight but this toss was good for a touchdown.

The visitors outmanned the home team and scored twice as many first downs, but the Ramblers carried the ball more. Notre Dame never kicked on third down while Southern California consistently punned when two plays had failed to negotiate a first down.

The game was a rough, tough affair.

BASEBALL MOGULS WILL MEET SOON

New York, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Major league baseball magnates, most of them singing the "box office blues," will gather in New York City next week to ponder what the can do as a body to cut down expenses, strengthen the clubs and bring the customers back to the parks.

The National League will open the three-day sessions with their annual meeting Tuesday, the American League will meet the next day and the joint session of the two bodies will be held Thursday.

Except for a few clubs, such as the New York Yankees, Boston Braves, Brooklyn Dodgers and Chicago Cubs, baseball did not do so well at the gate in 1932 and further economies must be made for the coming season.

President John A. Heydler, of the national circuit, said today he knew of only two definite suggestions for curtailment in 1933. One of these would include non-playing coaches in the limit of 20 men, and the other would make the 23-player limit effective May 15, instead of June 15, thus saving a month's salary on several players.

Among other suggestions from club owners, as expressed in interviews, are to further trim salaries, shorten the training season, ban radio, encourage field days and special days, and trade players to give fans new faces to watch and new deeds to cheer.

The question of reduction of salaries holds much dynamite, many of the magnates feel, as the players look out right down the line from Babe Ruth to the bat boy last year and any effort to further reduce salaries may bring on a wholesale holdout war. It appears probable each owner will be left to settle that problem as he sees fit.

KERR TRADES HATS FOR TOUCHDOWNS

Hamilton, N. Y., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Andy Kerr, Colgate Coach, will swap a hat for a touchdown or a blocked kick any day.

Kerr has been giving new hats to his Colgate players who scored touchdowns or blocked kicks in major games. And he has announced that the same prizes will be offered to all members of the East Squad, of which he is coach, who turn the feats in the Shriners hospital fund game with the west at San Francisco.

The eastern players selected by Kerr will leave for the Pacific coast next week, joining a squad of middle western athletes selected by Dick Hanley, Northwestern coach, at Evanston, Ill.

SMITH'S INDEES BOOK TWO TOUGH CUSTOMERS

Two furious battles are in prospect for Smith's Indies this afternoon at Liberty hall. In the first contest the Indies will tackle the Beardsdown All Stars headed by Mike Myers, well known central Illinois all-round athlete. In the second encounter the Smithmen will try their luck against the Illinois Business College five of Springfield.

First Inter-City Game on Tap At Liberty Hall on Friday

GAMES THIS WEEK

Monday.

I. S. D. at Jerseyville.

Tuesday.

Pawnee at J. H. S.

Franklin at Jerseyville.

Chandlerville at Beardstown.

Wednesday.

Illinois College vs. State Hospital (Liberty Hall).

Virginia at Pleasant Plains.

Chapin at Bluffs.

Chandlerville at Rushville.

Saturday.

Central Catholic High (East St. Louis) at Routt.

Jerseyville at I. S. D.

Rockbridge at White Hall.

The first of the inter-city battles that involve possession of the mythical city championship trophy will headline this week's basketball card, and the two teams involved promise to put up a real battle. They are Routt and Illinois School for the Deaf, and the scene will be Liberty Hall, where the Rockets won their third start of the present season on Friday night against Plymouth.

Basketball will be available every night except Thursday night of this week, and some interesting contests are booked. For instance, the opening game in the Illinois Valley conference race will be fired on Friday evening when White Hall and Winchester will hit the pike to Winchester and Pleasant Hill respectively. Roodhouse has that tough outfit from Murrayville on its hands the same night.

And then there is the Jacksonville high and Pawnee game on Tuesday night which should be exciting, and the opening of the Illinois College practice season game with the State Hospital Red Leg Senior team, on Wednesday night on the Liberty Hall court. The list of games above is just an idea as to how thoroughly basketball is taking over the sports spotlight just before Santa Claus harnesses his reindeer for his annual joy ride.

The Tigers, by defeating Decatur high in the opening game for the local team, stamped themselves as a menace to Routt's Rockets, and the Rockets at the same time labeled themselves as worthy opponents when they defeated Plymouth. The Tigers will have to stand on their fighting defense and long shots against the Rockets, who have been able to make every team thus far fire over the heads of its own effective defense.

Surrounded by his eight children and wife, Ross, friends said his last words were "I wish 'em the best."

He was referring to Jimmy Fox, new home run king and Al Simmons, specifically, and the whole A's team and former teammates in general.

One day in August, 1930, the Blackmen were playing a double header. Detelbaum was stricken that morning, and taken to the hospital for an operation. He asked his doctors about his chances for recovery.

The physician said the outcome of the operation would be uncertain.

"Well, then let me die happy—take me back to the ball game," he insisted in blankets.

He finally agreed to the operation while the A's went on a western tour, but missed the game on the team's return.

Here's Real Base Ball Bug; Wishes Team Luck, Dies

Philadelphia, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Herb Detelbaum, 32, died today, a baseball bug who wished his team luck.

Detelbaum was stricken that morning, and taken to the hospital for an operation. He asked his doctors about his chances for recovery.

The physician said the outcome of the operation would be uncertain.

"Well, then let me die happy—take me back to the ball game," he insisted in blankets.

He finally agreed to the operation while the A's went on a western tour, but missed the game on the team's return.

CRIMSON GRIDDERS TO HAVE BANQUET

Members of the Jacksonville high school football squad during the past week will meet at a banquet at the Peacock Inn where they will be the guests of the mothers of the players at the annual rabbit dinner. The banquet will begin at 8:15 p. m. with LaRue Van Meter, athletic director at Illinois College, as the main speaker.

Members of the football team will furnish the rabbits for the dinner. Arrangements are in charge of Mrs. Carl Ryan, and Mrs. Bert Cole.

Letters will be presented to the players who won them during the last season.

FAN BREEZES

by Ernest Savage

Is this Murrayville's year? It appears that the Shadows, so called because of their black suits with the gold "Murrayville" emblazoned across the chest of the shirt, are going to be one of the outstanding teams in prep circles this year.

While Hall was rumored to have so much material that Coach Bill Knop didn't know just exactly what to do with it. He had two teams, one just as good as the other, and a third team which was not quite as good, but which has possibilities.

And then Murrayville flew into them the other night and the result was a 30 to 16 victory. These boys will have to be watched this year. More power to them, because they have been up near the top so long that it is either time for them to really crash through or to subside.

Basketball is not the non-contact game it appears to be. Take a look at Big Abe Fedus, 240 pound Illinois College player. Abe is sporting a new shinier received in basketball practice.

Do you like to see amateurs fight? You'll have your chance on Wednesday and Thursday night of the coming week. The amateurs will gather here to battle it out for medals and a place of honor on the Jacksonville team which goes to the Golden Gloves tournament.

Amateur fighters frequently put up more action in three rounds than the fight fans are able to get in 10 rounds at professional shows. The reason is simple. Amateurs have only nine minutes to fight—and in those nine minutes they must pile up a margin of victory, either on points or by knockouts. They do not have time to spar for openings.

They have to get in the ring and begin swinging leather. They have to make those blows correct if they hope to get points. They have to keep the other fellow from connecting if they do not want points scored against them. And now there are no draw fights.

A decision must be rendered by the referee and the two judges at the end of the third round. Formerly the fighters were allowed to come back for a fourth round in case of a draw, but this ruling has been abolished.

Tickets for the two shows began moving along yesterday. Tickets are on sale at the Auto Inn, Wolfe Cigar store on West State, Crouse-Clear store on South Main, Pacific hotel, and the Journal and Courier office.

And the seats are inexpensive too, because general admission. Tickets for one night are only 50 cents, and ringside seats are selling for 75 cents for one night, or $1.25 for the two nights of the show.

And imagine having 105,000 people watching while you change your pants. We'd like to have Nick Lukats. Notre Dame back, tell what he was thinking about when he was forced to change his pants while surrounded by his team-mates in the last quarter of the football game, yesterday in Olympic stadium.

Illinois School for the Deaf did not go to Jerseyville last night because there was something going on out at their school which the athletes wanted to attend. The journey will be made Monday night, and Jerseyville will come up to Jacksonville next Saturday night to play a return engagement.

Just as a matter for consideration of the other football teams, it appears that there will be no Kiwanis football banquet this year—the money was in the late Ayers National.

welfare of their daughters who are living in an orphanage, and information was also given her concerning the monthly allowance from their father's compensation payments being paid to their guardian.

One Civil War Veteran's case received attention. Assistance is being given the niece of a deceased Civil War Veteran in filing her burial claim, and in filing a reimbursement claim.

Five Spanish-American War Veterans' cases received help.

Two greatly disabled veterans received assistance in filing hospitalization claims. The conservator of a greatly disabled veteran received assistance in executing the proper form so that payment of the pension could be made, and in making a conservator's report for the consideration of the Veterans' Administration.

Four Regular Army Veterans cases received attention. A greatly disabled veteran is receiving attention in his pension claim. An incompetent veteran is receiving assistance in securing his admission in the National Soldiers' Home, and in filing his pension claim. Information was received from a greatly disabled veteran, who has been a patient in the National Soldiers' Home for the past two years, relative to his health. One case was a disabled transient.

Eight civilian cases received attention. A test sheet in Red Cross Life Saving was submitted to National Headquarters for a Junior Life Saver, and a Senior Life Saver in Red Cross requested an emblem.

No record was kept of the numerous requests for Government Red Cross Flour and Cotton material, as these benefits families are all supplied these benefits through the overseer of the poor in whose precinct they live.

Most of the Government Cotton material has been made up into lovely garments for the needy families in Monroe County. A list of this material was distributed to the needy family in the yardage where it was known the woman in the family could make up this material properly for her family's use.

The five transient cases, four of which were disabled World War Veterans, and the other one a disabled Regular Army Veteran, were given a meal each, and clothing was furnished one of the World War Veterans.

The spirit of faculty and students during the trying days since the closing of the Ayers Bank has been courageous and normal, characteristic of the College. The whole College believes that we can and will go on with efficiency, facing with good spirit, any necessary adjustments.

Professor Capps, of Princeton, continues to remember his Alma Mater in connection with recent archaeological work. He has written that he is sending to the Library a copy of "Eleusiniaka" which is an account of four years of excavation on the site of Eleusis which has been carried on by the Archeological Bureau of the Greek government on funds supplied by a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation. Dr. K. Koussoulis, is Chief of the Bureau and Director of the excavations.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lanphier, of Springfield, were campus visitors last Saturday. Mr. Lanphier is head of the Sangamo Electric Company of Springfield, and a trustee of the College.

The Reverend Wayne Lee Waters, of the Congregational church, spoke in chapel on Wednesday morning, taking for his topic "Religion and Big Business."

The 1933 Big Veda staff is sponsoring a dance scheduled for December 16th, in Baxter Hall. Morrie Craig and his orchestra will furnish the music. This is to be a benefit dance given with the hope that the staff will be given enough assistance to warrant their going ahead with plans for the publication of the Annual in the spring.

Dr. F. B. Oxtoby gave an address on the Holy Land, illustrated with stereopticon slides, before the Women's Missionary Society of Grace Methodist Church, last Tuesday evening.

Basketball practice is being held two nights each week at the I. S. D. gymnasium, to acquaint the team to playing on that floor.

The George Gridley Wood prize debate was held in the chapel Monday evening, the question being, "Resolved, that all bank functions should be controlled by the Federal Government with deposits guaranteed." The decision went to the negative, which team was composed of Walter Bellatti, Jr., Gilbert DeRyle, Jack Norbury, Jacksonville, and John Musgrave of Huttsville. Hewitt McQuerry, Jerseyville; James Young, Galva; Marlin Coker, Jacksonville; and John Miller, Webster Groves, Missouri, upheld the affirmative.

At the D. A. R. meeting on Friday Miss Jessie Jenks and Mrs. F. B. Oxtoby presided at the tea table.

In a spirited meeting of the Freshman class last week the name of "Landslide Glass" was adopted. A resolution was drawn up, and provision was made for voting on a constitution next Tuesday.

"Jon" and "No More Americans" have been chosen by the Dramatic Club for presentation on three evenings next week, December 13, 14, and 15, in the "Little Theatre." The scene of the play "Jon" is laid in a little fishing village on the coast of Scotland. The cast includes: Kenneth Chenoweth, Anna Ney Spears, Margaret Goebel, Margaret Elliott, Olga Bussey, Lenora Stryker of Jacksonville; and John Craig, Chicago; Karl Weber, Flora; Leon Engelhart, Jonesboro.

The scene of "No More Americans" is a French cafe popular with American tourists, in which the characters are: Ned Donahoe, Edith Rammekamp, Margaret Caldwell of Jacksonville; Joe O'Neal, Stanton; Elmore, Cornery; Springfield; Erland Ericson, Virginia; Charles Sabin, Flora; and Don Thomas, Camp Point.

The Sigma Pi, Pi Phi Rho debate will be held on December 19. This is to be the final debate of the inter-society debate series. Julian Rawlings, William Moore, and Charles Watson will appear for Sigma Pi; Robert Thrall, John Miller, and Lewis Sabin for Pi Phi Rho. The question is: "Resolved, the the Philippines should be given complete independence."

MISS SANDERS OF CONCORD IS COUNTY QUEEN

Chosen at Annual Farm Bureau Jubilee Held Saturday Evening

Miss Marjorie Sanders, of Concord, and seventeen year old junior in the Chapin high school, was named Country Life Queen of Morgan county last evening at the third annual Farm Bureau Jubilee and homecoming held at the high school auditorium at seven-thirty o'clock. Miss Sanders will be eligible to enter the state contest at the Illinois State fair in 1933.

Second place in the contest went to Miss Mary Hadden, of Route 7, Jacksonville, who was crowned Country Life Queen last year. Miss Helen Fearnleyhough, of Route 5, Winchester, was awarded third place.

The judges of the contest were Edgar Boynton, Frank M. Taylor, and Miss Margaret VanMeter, all of Springfield.

Others entered in the contest were Helen Louise Becker, of Alexander;

Wanda Bracewell, of Murrayville; Virginia Gibson, of Waverly; Mildred Hynes, of Chapin; Emily Loneragan, of Woodson; Virginia Reynolds, of Jacksonville; Anna Mae Stice, of Route 1, Virginia; and Emma Swain, of Route 1, Ashland.

L. T. Oxley presided during the evening. The program opened with the judging contest. The entrants paraded across the platform before the judges to the music of Glenn Skinner's orchestra. With a possible one hundred points, the girls were scored as follows: personality, 40; poise, 22; carriage, 18; beauty, 15, and costume, 5.

The next number on the program was given by the Boys' Glee club of 65 members of the local schools under the direction of Miss Lena Hopper. Community singing was led by Harlan Williamson. A reading was given by Margaret Camm, of Franklin.

A. N. Hall, who is 85 years of age, received tremendous applause from the capacity crowd which packed the auditorium for a violin solo he rendered. Mr. Hall resides north of the city. A novelty act was given by Keith and Leitha Scholfield, of the Lynville community. Miss Leitha Stewart played a xylophone solo.

The program was brought to a close with a play, "Professor of Love," presented by a cast of characters from the Mound Woman's Country club. The production was directed by Mrs. Raymond Yager. The cast of characters was as follows:

Professor Fairchild—Mrs. Fred Carter.
Marian, his daughter—Mrs. Roscoe Marston.
Housekeeper—Mrs. Arthur Acom.
Betty, the maid—Mrs. Leon Stewart.
Johnny, the ice man—Mrs. Earl Hempel.
Mr. Dacey, a book agent—Miss Leitha Scholfield.

RABBIT FEVER DEADLY.—The first fatality from tularemia or rabbit fever in this vicinity was reported today. Stanley Hawley, 68, a coal miner of Odin, near here, died last yesterday from the disease, physicians reported. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. Gilbert Hawley, who also contracted the fever, is reported improved. Physicians report seven other persons in this vicinity are suffering from the disease.

WISCONSIN FARM FAMILY-DRIVEN FROM HOME WITH MACHINE GUNS

A bitter end came to Max Chicon's four-year fight to keep his farm home near Elkhorn, Wis., when deputy sheriffs drove out Max and his wife and children with machine gun and rifle fire. Chicon, who claims he was defrauded in the deal for his home, has repeatedly driven off deputies and appraisers with a shot gun. Sheriff James Mason then laid careful plans to surround the house with 20 deputies. Chicon had barricaded his farmyard with barbed-wire entanglements. Mason hooked a field telephone on the line extending the farmhouse, and called on Chicon to surrender. The reply was a shot gun blast from Mrs. Chicon and a salvo of rifle fire from Chicon, according to the officers. The upper stories of the farm house were peppered with machine-gun bullets. Pieces of plaster fell and struck Max Jr., on the head. Several times Chicon or his wife were seen to run from their fortress and back in. Again Sheriff Mason telephoned the beleaguered house, and obtained Chicon's promise to surrender. Above is a lively picture account of the gun fight: Upper left, Chicon in handcuffs after his surrender; upper right, Mrs. Chicon and her children, Virginia 10 and Max 5, carrying from the house dolls, books and other small possessions after the surrender. Lower left, Chicon and his wife leaving the house, hands raised in submission, as soon as the firing ceased, and lower right, the house, deputies standing before it, which the Chicons fought so desperately to save.

Manchaster
Manchaster, Dec. 10.—(P)—Mrs. Clarence Ring entertained the 500 club Wednesday, Dec. 7th, at her home north of town.

First honor going to Miss Lucille McCarty, of Jacksonville, second to Mrs. Howard McCracken. Following the games a refreshment course was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mary Agnes.

Funeral services for Edward Walker were held on Thursday morning at eleven o'clock at the Baptist church. Rev. C. L. Lett officiating, assisted by Rev. A. P. Gregory. Music was furnished by Mrs. J. C. Andras, Mrs. William Arendell and Mrs. Thersa Langdon, with Miss Leta Howard at the piano.

The casket bearers were W. F. Elington, E. F. Cuddy, Charles S. Heaton, J. E. Osborne, E. A. Lashmet and Lemmie Goacher. Those caring for the flowers were Mrs. E. F. Cuddy, Mrs. Howard Tucker, Mrs. Albert Cooper, Mrs. Frances Curtis and Mrs. Mabel Elliot.

Among those attending from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Medendorff, Franklin; Misses Maude and Revena Doughty, Mrs. Bradshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Walton, of White Hall; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wagstaff and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lemmie Goacher, Mrs. Albert Copely, Mrs. Roy Covington and Harvey Green, Jacksonville; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Coats, Winchester; Mrs. Pearl Morgan and Mrs. Mary Ann Smith, of the latter a niece of the deceased, of Peoria.

Interment in the Bethel cemetery between Manchaster and Murrayville.

J. C. Andras and son John returned from St. Louis Friday evening, where they have been the past week, with their show, hereof cattle, attending a stock show and cattle sale.

Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Schwartz made a business trip to Winchester Thursday afternoon.

Those shopping in Jacksonville Friday were Mrs. Helen Skidmore, Miss Mina Greenwalt, Mrs. H. A. Langdon and Mrs. Frances Curtis.

Mrs. Frances Curtis spent Thursday afternoon in Alsey with Mrs. R. E. Curtis.

Here is the story of seven thousand bushels of corn, raised in Morgan county, shipped from Morgan county and "sacrificed" on the market Friday.

Reading from the record of the shipper, we find:

Shipped to Chicago on April 4, 6 and 7, 1932, 7,150 bu., No. 2 yellow corn.

Sold Dec. 9, 1932, at 24 1/2 cents per bu. Total $1,751.56.

Freight, $594.35.

Storage, $866.96.

Insurance, $32.04.

Weighing, $5.

Inspection, $5.

Interest $26.20.

Commission 1 cent per bushel, $71.50.

Total cost of shipment, storage, etc., $1,621.05.

Net for 7,150 bu. of corn, $130.61.

"Not enough to pay for the seed; not enough to pay for shucking it; not enough to pay for anything," said the disgruntled shipper.

When the corn was sent to Chicago in April the price was not what the shipper thought it should be so he had the corn held. The cost of storage mounted rapidly, and in another few weeks the deal would have been a total loss to the owner of the corn. But he has managed to make $130.61 out of the transaction, a nice little souvenir if his memory happens to fail him in the future.

STOCKHOLDERS OF AYERS BANK WILL PAY ASSESSMENT
Announcement was made Saturday by F. G. Awalt, acting comptroller of the currency, of an assessment upon shareholders of the Ayers National bank of Jacksonville for $500,000. The U. S. treasury official in his statement directed Frank W. McRoberts, receiver of the bank, to collect the assessment from the shareholders by Jan. 14, 1933.

The statement of the comptroller said that it appeared to his satisfaction that in order to pay debts of the bank it is necessary to enforce the individual liability of the stockholders. The receiver is empowered to take all necessary proceedings, by suits or otherwise, to secure payment of the assessments.

This is the first official step that has been taken to gather up the resources of the closed bank.

ANNA L. MATHEWS OF VIRGINIA IS TAKEN BY DEATH
Virginia, Dec. 10.—(Special)—Mrs. Anna Looker Mathews, wife of Leo Mathews, retired farmer of Virginia, died Friday evening at a Springfield hospital. Mrs. Mathews was 55 years of age at the time of her death.

She is survived by her husband, Leo Mathews; father, Wesley Looker, and the following brother and sisters: Mrs. Jess Livingston, Mrs. Walter Horton, Mrs. Tom Livingston, Mrs. Maey Looker, and William Looker, all of Virginia; and one sister, Mrs. Charles Wobker of Beardstown.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Monday at the M. E. church in Virginia with Rev. Armstrong officiating. Interment will be in Walnut Ridge cemetery.

Chapin
Mr. and Mrs. Omer Brockhouse and children, of Mercedosa, were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Addie White and daughter, Miss Maude.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ogle, of Arcadia, attended the sale here Wednesday and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Brockhouse and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Goffinett entertained Wednesday evening in honor of their son, Warren Dale's eighth birthday anniversary the following guests: George Bobbitt, John Onken and George Perbix.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Middendorf and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Smith will spend Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Covey at Murrayville.

Mrs. R. A. Phillips returned home Saturday from Peoria where she had visited the past week with her daughter, Mrs. Oma Davenport.

Chandlerville
The Decatur branch of the New York Life Insurance held an all day meeting, Friday 9th.

Fred Horron of Chandlerville, Ill., and G. C. Powers of Petersburg, Ill., representatives of New York Life Insurance attended the meeting.

After the business session the representatives enjoyed a turkey dinner given at the Decatur club.

James Way of Canton was a business caller in Chandlerville, Ill., Monday and Tuesday.

Richard McDonald was in Springfield, Ill., Wednesday.

Frank Bruno and Dr. Boone were business callers in Springfield, Ill., Tuesday.

MRS. JAS. Y. PEAK DIES SUDDENLY AT WINCHESTER
Winchester, Dec. 10.—Mrs. James Y. Peak, a well known resident of this city, died at noon today after a brief illness.

The decedent was highly respected in the Winchester community. She was a faithful member of the Baptist church.

Surviving are her husband and four children: Mrs. John Norman, Charles and Earl Claywell, all of this vicinity, and Mrs. Paul Perry of Los Angeles. She was twice married, her first husband being Bird Claywell, who preceded her in death many years ago.

Funeral arrangements are not complete.

DRY CARAVAN
Washington, Dec. 10.—(P)—The Anti-Saloon League, holding here in "resist repeal" national convention, today made up a "constitutional caravan" and visited the grave of William Jennings Bryan and other historic spots.

At the tomb of the unknown soldier the dry-cruising world war hero Sergeant Alvin C. York of Jamestown, Tenn., urged the prohibition workers to get back to 1917-18 "fortification in prayer," and "fight with organized forces."

After George H. Wilson of Quincy, Ill., had praised Bryan for his efforts in behalf of the dry movement, the caravan went to the Lincoln memorial, the Lee mansion, and the statue of John Paul Jones.

BENNETT FUNERAL RITES TO BE MONDAY
Mrs. Jeanette Brown Bennett passed away at 6:15 p. m. Friday, Dec. 9, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Hubbs, 1039 West State street, after a short illness.

Mrs. Bennett was the daughter of James and Elsie Sheppard Brown, and was born Dec. 23, 1849, in Ottawa, Canada, where her parents had moved from near Glasgow, Scotland. They later moved to Petersburg, Ill., in her early childhood and made that city their home.

She was married Dec. 24, 1867, to Walter Bennett of Petersburg, who passed away March 1, 1898. Two children were born to this union: Robert, who died in infancy, and Claudia, now Mrs. J. H. Hubbs. In early life she became a member of the First Christian church of Petersburg, and remained in that faith through the passing years. Four brothers and three sisters, together with her parents, preceded her in death.

Of sterling christian character and cheery disposition she was enjoyed by her friends, and especially the young people who came to the home.

She is survived by her daughter, Claudia Hubbs and two grandchildren: Enid Hubbs and Bennett Hubbs of Jacksonville; several nephews and nieces in the west, and one niece, Miss Bertha Bennett and one nephew David L. Bennett of Petersburg and William J. Bennett of Los Angeles, Calif.

The remains were prepared for burial at the Arthur G. Cody funeral home and will be taken to the home of Mrs. Hubbs, 1039 West State street this morning at 11 o'clock.

Funeral services will be held at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Hubbs Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Interment at Rose Hill cemetery, Petersburg.

Friends please omit flowers.

RAILROAD GIVES PASSENGER CAR TO PARK BOARD
Roodhouse, Dec. 10.—The Alton railroad has for some time been disposing of obsolete rolling stock in the way of box cars, cabooses and coaches. When the attention of company officials was called to the general use of cabooses by the public and the need of a shelter house there they donated a passenger coach for the purpose and it was taken out to the park some time ago. Thursday it was placed upon its permanent foundation. It will shelter probably one hundred people from rain and storm, who might be caught out there unprotected in such an emergency.

It will also be available for any group or organization which may wish to hold a meeting there. It is not, however, to be used as an eating room.

A railroad caboose was taken out to the park and has been fitted up as bed-room and living-room by Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Utt, caretakers at the park.

FUNERALS
Mrs. Anna Ross Dewey
Funeral services for the late Mrs. Anna Ross Dewey were conducted Saturday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Parker Doan. West Lafayette Avenue, by the Rev. E. W. Davies, pastor of the Episcopal church. Burial was in the Diamond Grove cemetery.

Flowers were in charge of Miss Ruth Elliott, Mrs. John Johnson, and Mrs. Verne Bassett.

Bearers were H. H. Bancroft, E. M. Dunlap, Jack Russell, Dr. A. L. Adams, Ralph Dunlap, and C. A. Johnson.

Those from out of the city who attended the services included E. C. Davies, LaGrange, Ill., and E. Channing Coolidge, Chicago.

SOVIETS REFUSE TO SURRENDER CHINESE GENERAL
Tokyo, Dec. 10.—(P)—The foreign office disclosed today that H. M. Karakhan, assistant people's commissar for foreign affairs of the Soviet, flatly rejected a formal Japanese request for extradition of General Su Ping-Wen, leader of Chinese insurgents in Manchuria who sought refuge in Siberia last Sunday.

The request was made Thursday and later the Japanese government, Eiji Aonoh, its charge d'affaires in Moscow, to request that General Su and his companions at least be held under strict surveillance until the question could be discussed further.

(It was announced at Moscow Thursday night that General Su had been granted permission to go to Europe, presumably to present his case before the League of Nations.)

Previous Japanese reports received here were that General Su and his staff were disarmed and interned by Soviet authorities when they were driven across the border from Manchuria, Manchuria, by the Japanese military offensive.

More Bodies Recovered in Harlan Mine
Harlan, Ky., Dec. 10.—(P)—Four more bodies were removed from the depths of the Zero mine at Yancy this morning, making a total of 23 known to have been killed yesterday as the result of an explosion. Rescue crew leaders said they believed all the victims had been brought out.

Ten of the dead had been recovered by midnight, and rescuers, with masks protecting them from the deadly carbon monoxide gas, continued their work during the early hours today. Investigation will continue today to determine the cause of the blast.

All apparently died from the effects of the monoxide gas. J. S. Lyson, safety director of the Harlan Coal Operators Association, said the explosion probably followed a "windy blast," mine parlance for a charge of explosive which backfires instead of blasting the coal for which it is intended.

When such a charge backfires, it sends a sheet of flame into the entry, igniting the coal dust and causing a terrific explosion. This in turn is followed by spread of the carbon monoxide gas, or the dread "black damp."

Twelve white men and eleven negroes were believed in the entry at the time. The explosion occurred a mile and a half from the entrance of the mine, an operation of the Harlan Fuel company at Yancy.

AMATEUR ROBBER
Alton, Ill., Dec. 10.—(P)—Ernest E. Shape, 52, operator of a tourist camp and filling station here, was in a critical condition today after being shot by a robber last night.

The robber, whose nervousness and soft-spoken voice indicated he was an "amateur," commanded Shape to put up his hands and back into a corner. He put up his hands but failed to comply with the other order, and was shot in the chest by the robber, who fled empty-handed.

BRISK UPTURNS IN GRAIN MART

By John F. Doughan
Associated Press Market Editor
Chicago, Dec. 16.—(U.S.)—Erik upturns in grain values today that traced in hand with lively speculative buying and with authoritative assertions of irreparable damage to domestic winter wheat.

Reports that President-elect Roosevelt would demand abolition of the tariff and contributed impetus to the buying of wheat and other grains. Another stimulating factor was an announcement that the new Argentine wheat crop was officially estimated at 232,000,000 bushels, compared with private forecasts heretofore that ranged as high as 260,000,000.

Wheat futures advanced almost the day's top, 2-1 cent, above yesterday's finish, corn 1-8 up, oats 1/4 advanced.

Sharp notice by wheat traders was taken of a statement by a leading crop expert that regardless of favorable weather no recovery of injured domestic winter wheat could be expected until spring over large sections southward and east. The order was that it could be had over still larger sections. The prospect, he said, pointed to severe damage.

It was explained that recoveries came only to crops that had a good start. The winter wheat of the previous year, which showed poor growth, fewer roots, and their condition was aggravated by the rigors of low temperature.

Advices current today indicated that early light snow had fallen in dry sections of the northwestern and southwestern and that drought and lack of protection from cold was largely unrelieved. Meanwhile, traders were stirred by a sudden advance in rye quotations, a result of purchase orders from the northwestern. The orders were associated with reports that enactment of farm allotment measures, omitting an excise tax on rye, would bring about enlarged use of rye as a bread-making material. In some cases, rye was expected to move at 55 cents above Wednesday's finish.

Corn and oats moved up with wheat as a result of curtailed receipts of corn. The country refuses to sell corn Provisions responded to firmness of the hog market.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—Dec. 45½¢, 46½; May 48½, 49½; July 48½, 50½. Corn—May, 27½-28, 28½; July 29½, 29½.

WRIGHT TO PRESIDE OVER MURDER TRIALS

Judge Walter W. Wright of this city who has been holding court in Springfield since he took oath as a circuit judge two weeks ago, will go to Jacksonville Monday to reconvene the Jersey county term. Two murder cases have been set for trial in Jersey county on Monday, Dec. 19. Judge Wright is expected to preside over both trials if they are heard at this term.

Harry F. Oberlin has been indicted for killing his wife, Mrs. Clara Oberlin on April 12, and Joseph Stahling is accused of slaying his wife, Mrs. Mary Stahling, on May 14.

ANXIOUS FOR BRIDGE

Morris, Ill., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Impatient over the delay in a start of construction of a new bridge over the Illinois waterway here, the Grundy county commissioners have asked the state attorney general's office to explain why condemnation proceedings have not been inaugurated.

The county faces a monthly fine of $5,000 by the war department for every month after next March 1 that the present bridge hampers traffic, the commissioners said.

Misses Anna, Stella and Elizabeth Doolin and Harry Doolin of Woodson will be Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mathews, 339 East Douglas avenue.

Pass One Third Mark In Journal-Courier Christmas Fund Drive

One third of the way in the drive to raise funds for the underprivileged children's Christmas fund was reached yesterday when the contributions to the Journal and Courier's fund to supplement the "Uncle" Sammy Nichols foundation went over $50. Donations came in from all over the city yesterday, some of them bearing names, others signed simply a "Friend." The Journal and Courier wishes to thank those people who have contributed, and to urge those who have not to send in their money as soon as possible—there are only 12 more shopping days before Christmas.

A contribution was received yesterday from the Pupils' Relief Fund at the Illinois School for the Blind. The gift amounted to $11. This fund is maintained by the teachers at the school and is used to aid children in the institution who do not receive aid from their relatives or home counties. Finding a good balance in the fund the teachers decided to contribute to the Jacksonville Journal-Courier Christmas Fund so that the children of Jacksonville might have a Merry Christmas.

A complete list of the donors to the fund is published in connection with this article, to show the appreciation of this company for the co-operation of its readers, and to recognize their donations. Every cent of the money received is turned over to the fund, and not one cent is to be used to pay for distribution of the Christmas packages.

Seidman has the soul of the community been touched as thoroughly at this time of year as it is being touched this year. Adverse conditions have brought many expressions that there would be "No Christmas at our house," but with the aid of the fund, there will be Christmas in homes, with the accompanying merriment.

The Journal and Courier Christmas packages will provide joy if the fund is raised. Chief of Police Frank Kiloran, who will administer the fund, said that there would be toys in every package, some fun, and Christmas candy, and possibly some article of wearing apparel.

There are hundreds of little folks in this city anxiously awaiting the arrival of the city trucks with the Christmas packages. Four hundred packages were distributed last year, and Chief Kiloran hopes to have enough money to make up at least 500 packages this year. There will be happiness in the homes where these packages are left, and toys to amuse the children on Christmas day, and days thereafter.

The Journal and Courier hopes to have the fund completed by next Saturday in order to turn over the entire amount to Chief Kiloran for the purchasing of supplies. It will require many hours to make the packages, and the Christmas items that go into the packages, and put addresses on the bundles. Imagine the amount of work involved in preparing between 400 and 500 packages, and you will know why it is necessary to complete the fund by Saturday of this week.

Contributors to Journal-Courier Christmas Fund

The following people have contributed to the Journal and Courier Christmas fund which this year will supplement the Nichols Foundation. This list is published in appreciation of the wholehearted support of these friends, and in order that they may know that their contributions have been received.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE PRESIDENT DENIES RUMOR OF CLOSING

Releases Financial Statement to Show Condition; No Big Cut Expected

Stating that there was no foundation for reports that Illinois College is to close, Acting President John G. Ames yesterday issued a statement showing the financial condition of the college at present. His statement says that there is a possibility of a salary reduction for the instructors in the institution, but that if it is made it will be the first substantial reduction made during the last several years.

The board of trustees of the college will decide upon the salary reductions at a semi-annual meeting which will be held Dec. 27 in this city. The full statement made by Mr. Ames follows:

"Any impression that Illinois College is to close because of the recent difficulty involving a part of its endowment funds is absolutely incorrect. The following figures will verify this statement:

"Before the hypothecon of the bonds Illinois College had total endowment investments amounting to $1,132,987.

"At the most we may lose (market value of securities) 375,000.

"Leaving the endowed investment $ 757,987.

"Many colleges have an endowment of less than $500,000.

"The annual budget for expenses is approximately $ 146,500.

"The estimated annual income from endowment is 60,000.

"The estimated income from other sources other than invested endowment is 88,000.

"The loss of income, if any, from the hypothecon of our bonds will not exceed 19,000.

"During the past three years but one salary reduction has been made and that of only 5 per cent. During this same period many public school and college faculties have been forced to take 20 per cent and 30 per cent cuts and commercial and industrial employees have suffered equal or greater reductions. Thus it is a sound business policy to make a 10 per cent or 15 per cent reduction in salaries at the present time, the reduction will only be in line with what has already taken place in many schools and colleges.

"Obviously, the loss which Illinois College may sustain, serious as it may be, will by no means make it necessary to close the college, nor necessitate such drastic retrenchments as will seriously affect its high scholastic standards."

OWINGS RITES TO BE CONDUCTED AT WOODSON CHURCH

Eight Year Old Boy Meets Death Beneath Truck Saturday

Funeral services for Robert Owings, 8 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Owings, of Woodson, who was killed yesterday morning by a truck, will be held Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at the Woodson Christian church. The Woodson schools will be closed during the services.

The child was killed about 10 o'clock yesterday morning on the hard road in front of the LaCrosse Lumber company yard at Woodson, when he was struck and run over by a truck loaded with coal.

The lad was dragged for several feet under the wheels, and his body badly crushed. He was carried into the yard of his home which was not far from the scene of the accident. He died before Dr. C. E. Waters of Murrayville, who was summoned, could arrive.

Coroner E. O. Sample was notified and went at once to Woodson, where he held an inquest at noon in the office at the lumber yard. The remains of the child were brought to the Williamson Funeral Home in this city and assisted by Mrs. C. E. Waters and Robert Owings was born Sept. 26, 1924. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Owings, and two sisters, Elizabeth and Virginia Lee. He leaves also his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Clemma Hanback and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Owings.

The truck which struck the lad was driven by Leslie Hembrough. The jury heard testimony from Mr. Hembrough and from a dozen or more persons who either saw the accident or saw the truck just before it struck the boy. Dr. C. E. Waters, who arrived about a half an hour after the accident also testified. The jury's verdict:

"Robert Dean Owings came to his death from being run over by a truck driven by Leslie Hembrough, and we, the jury, find that it was purely accidental and unavoidable. We exonerate the driver from all blame."

The jury consisted of Jess Henry, Foreman; Eugene McGinnis, Jess C. Tarnwell, Clyde W. Jones, P. D. Sheehan and P. D. McGinnis, clerk. Miss Velma Campbell reported the inquest proceedings in shorthand.

The testimony showed that the boy in company with another lad, George Shirley Harney, had gone across the street to a restaurant after some candy. They had started back and the Harney boy crossed the hard road in safety. The Owings boy saw the truck, became confused and finally ran in front of it. The machine ran over him, but was stopped by the driver within 60 to 75 feet.

Mr. Hembrough sounded his horn at the boy and did what he could to avoid the accident. Testimony showed the father at the time of his death could be paid.

Seven required reports for the Veterans' Administration were made for the dependent parents of deceased World War Veterans, who are receiving monthly dependency compensation payments.

The wife of a greatly disabled World War Veteran who is a patient in a U. S. Veterans' Hospital, and who has four small children to care for, is receiving various kinds of help, as she is not well, and clothing was furnished the children.

The widow of a recently deceased World War Veteran is receiving assistance in fitting a burial claim, assembling evidence required in a dependency compensation claim, submitting information for the payment of the balance of her husband's Government Insurance, and in securing the settlement of the Adjusted Compensation Claim due the beneficiary.

The widow of a World War Veteran, who has a wife and small son dependent upon him for support, was given assistance in securing necessary clothing for his wife and children.

The proper location of a distant Veterans' Administration Office was given by Mrs. Florine Perib, a Red Cross volunteer who had been requested to report to that office for a medical examination.

Information concerning the present welfare of three children of a deceased World War Veteran, who were being cared for in the Illinois Soldiers' and Sailors' Children's School, was given to the mother of these children.

A Red Cross Office in a distant city was given further help in proving the dependency compensation claim of a mother of an incompetent World War Veteran, who is a patient in a local institution, and in securing the transfer of this veteran to a hospital closer to his mother's home.

Information was given a World War Veteran relative to the interest due on the loan which he received a year ago on his Adjusted Service Certificate.

The widow of a deceased World War Veteran received final and favorable settlement in her dependency compensation claim, which was due her as accrued monthly dependency compensation payments.

An incompetent World War Veteran is requesting assistance in securing his release from a U. S. Veterans' Hospital, and an investigation is being made by the Veterans' Administration concerning this case.

A greatly disabled veteran requested help in changing the name of the beneficiary on his Adjusted Service Certificate. A reimbursement claim for travel expenses for the attendant of this veteran at the time he was admitted to a U. S. Veterans' Hospital is receiving attention, and the payment of the regular fee for the attendant's services has been recommended.

The deserted wife of a World War Veteran is receiving further help in locating her husband, in securing necessary clothing for her two small daughters, who are living in the home of relatives, and in securing employment for the wife, who was recently discharged from the Illinois Soldiers' Widows' Home.

A change of beneficiary form was executed for a World War Veteran in his Adjusted Compensation Claim. Information concerning the health of a greatly disabled World War Veteran was given to relatives of this veteran.

Russia's Five Year Plan Described by Engineer at Woman's Club Meeting

The appalling conditions under which the Russian five year plan is being carried out, was pointed out by the Chicago, Chicago American agricultural engineer, who addressed members of the Jacksonville Woman's club Saturday afternoon. The five year plan is a program for the further extension and consolidation of the October revolution. Nor should the great international significance of the plan be underestimated, added Mr. Cretors, who stated that for the first time in the history of a vast country, with inexhaustible natural resources and a population of 150,000,000 people, faces the world with an elaborate plan for rebuilding a socialist economy and cultivating a socialist party.

The club met at the D. A. R. home, with the president, Mrs. John R. Robertson presiding. Mrs. Bart Brown sang a group of songs with Miss Tomlinson as accompanist. At the close of the afternoon's program light refreshments were served with Mrs. M. J. Donahue as chairman of hostesses assisted by Mrs. C. E. Waters and Mrs. Marshall Miller and Mrs. John R. Robertson pouring.

Mr. Cretors' speech follows:

"In November, 1929, I went to the Soviet Union to teach, having been connected with the Soviet government as an agricultural engineer, what we call the Russian peasants. At that time I spoke no word of the Russian language so it was compulsory to have an interpreter with me constantly. At the time I was in the Soviet Union, I saw the first of the Soviet Union or communism. I am willing to swear to an affidavit before anyone, I can substantiate my statements by two hundred and fifty thousand Russian peasants.

"In 1917 there were two revolutions in Russia—one a bloodless revolution in which they were trying to establish a government like America. The second one was a bloody revolution. The first revolution was a revolution of the mind, the second was a revolution of the body. They were given the choice of either joining the Red army or not—those not choosing the Reds were killed.

"The first Bolshevik dictator was Lenin, a Russian Jew, second was Vladimir I. Lenin, and then came Joseph Stalin, and the third, the present dictator of Russia, Stalin is not a Russian and so he has alienated the Russian people. The name Stalin means 'man of steel.' He signs death warrants just as he did ten or twelve years ago. He has signed approximately 3,500,000 death warrants.

"In Russia there is a class of children known as the 'Wild Children.' These children are as wild as the beasts. They are not taught to read or write, and they are not taught to work. They are brought up without any knowledge of religion. During my stay in Russia I saw five churches, but I saw the priests in their robes, but I saw a working man is caught giving food to a priest he is immediately punished."

In conclusion, Mr. Cretors summed up his observations of the five year plan by saying that the five year plan is a program for the further extension and consolidation of the October revolution. Nor should the great international significance of the plan be underestimated, he said.
